

Amendment to the Specification

On page 7, please replace the paragraph beginning at line 17 with the following amended paragraph:

“Maintaining individual product identity” means two or more different food items provided together in the same package and present in discreet phases such that each of the separate food items may be visually discerned at the surface of the food portion by the consumer ~~using attributes of color, texture, or organoleptic or other differences.~~